Asphalt Emulsion Manufacturers

Re-Elect Barry Baughman 2009-2010 President

During its recent 36th Annual Meeting held in Indian Wells, California, the membership of the Asphalt Emulsion Manufacturers Association (AEMA) re-elected Barry Baughman to the office of President, for the 2009-2010 term. Baughman is Technical Director of ULTRAPAVE Corp., Inc., based in Dalton, Georgia. A member of the AEMA Board of Directors since 1998, Baughman has previously served in the positions of Secretary/Treasurer, Vice President, and Annual Meeting Program Chairman. A native of Abbeville, SC, he obtained his BS Chemistry Degree at Presbyterian College in Clinton, SC, and started working in the asphalt industry in 1981. He worked for Koch Materials Company for 15 years as Technical Manger for various paving regions, the Recreational Coatings Group, and the Building Products Group. He left Koch in 1996 for a short stint with BASF as their Global Technical Manager for Asphalt Modification. In 1999 Barry joined Textile Rubber & Chemical Company as the Technical Manager of Research and Development for the ULTRAPAVE group. Now Technical Director for ULTRAPAVE, Barry is currently active in AEMA, AAPT, AI, ASTM, AASHTO, TRB, the American Chemical Society, SEAUPG, CA Chip Seal Association and various other industry organizations. Members of the Grace Presbyterian Church, and parents of two daughters, Lauren and Sally, Baughman and his wife Laurette reside Dalton, GA.
